"I feel that others would greatly benefit from the experience the Group Organizers have to offer. Everyone has been extremely nice, professional, and take great care in how to train us in presenting ourselves when conducting an investigation. This is precisely why I joined this group, and this group alone. Anyone who is willing to learn, and has the desire to learn about the proper means to conducting an investigation would certainly benefit from the wide array of skills this group has to offer". Jason P., Raleigh, NC.

"Finally a group with the right intentions, knowledge and leadership. George has started with the basics and is willing to teach us the right way to investigate". Tim W., Apex, NC.

"I was really impressed with the amount of information that was provided and the way it was presented. Hope and George were extremely well prepared for the meeting and very knowledgeable on paranormal material". Janet B., Raleigh, NC.

"I found the team to be very knowledgeable, friendly, and willing to share information. It was like a very informative class given on how to conduct an investigation and the tools to do it with. I had already been impressed just from what I saw on line. The dedication, amount of time and resources given to just the online site was really what determined the reason that I wanted to join. The information and communication is wonderful". Jane B., Durham, NC.

"I liked the workshop-like approach to learning more about investigations. Although I've had some investigation experience, I still learned a bit about different kinds of equipment". Mark L., Durham, NC.

"Wow! George and his organizers have created something really special. George's talk was captivating, very informative, and thought provoking. How many of us have been dreaming of doing something like this. Many thanks. :-)" Carol S., Cary, NC.
